

HFFA NEWSLETTER – Vol. 15, Issue #1, February - 2010

HFFA NEWS

A Publication of the Heinrich Frey Family Association

Published Quarterly –

Last week in February, May, August, and November

www.hfrey.org

Hello to our Cousins, Kin, and Other Readers,

This copy of the HFFA NEWS is being sent to everyone who was on the roster in 2009. If you have not renewed your dues for 2010 yet, please do so. Your name will be removed from the roster unless you send in your renewal.

Dues are still only $25 per year. Make out a check for $25 (made out to HFFA) for each year that you want to pay. Many of us pay for a few years in advance. Send your renewal to our Membership Chair, Marti Frye, 308 Bellevue Plantation Rd., Lafayette, LA 70503.

The next Newsletter and the HFFA Journals will only be sent to those who are on the roster for 2010.

In the November Newsletter, I mentioned that I signed up for DNA testing with FamilyTreeDNA.com. There were a lot of offerings. I chose the 67 marker test for Y-DNA (father, grandfather, great grandfather, etc) AND the mtDNA (mother, grandmother, great grandmother, etc.)

So far there have been NO matches on the Y-DNA test. Other members have had good success with this test, but not me, yet.

On the mtDNA test I have thousands of matches. BUT, we are informed (and warned) that this test can go back 52 generations or more for a match. That would take us into the Dark Ages.

I have been in contact with some of the people with whom I have a match. So far our family lines do not seem to link up. Apparently, I am in something called HAPLO Group K, which covers most of Europe with threads that extend into Russia, Mongolia, and other distant places. Most of the Ashkenazi Jews are in HAPLO Group K and I have been in contact with someone from that faith. Another respondent has family lines originating in Gdansk, Poland. Another person can trace their maternal side back 500 years, entirely in Iceland.

My mother's, mother side is French Canadian. There might be a lot of matches, but it doesn't look like they will be easy to trace.

Trying to find the link for these diverse groups of people will require much research and a lot of luck.

On my father's father side (the Speers) an interesting revelation has occurred. I had always considered the Speers to be of German origin. The Y-DNA test indicates a stronger link to Britain, Ireland, and Scotland with only a weak link to Germany. I'm hoping to eventually be informed of a match on the Y-DNA test.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

I am sure ready for spring. This winter has been long and cold. Hope yours was better than ours.

Once again I would appeal to all of you to contribute to the newsletter and our Journal. These two items are the bloodlines of our association. I am sure there are stories passed down from our families we would like to share including any humorous anecdotes.

It is time for renewal of our dues. Please support the HFFA with your renewal.

While we were in Texas at the Mineola reunion someone had a lot of old pictures. Jon Frye would like to get in touch with that person in regard to their pictures.

On a sad note, we would like to extend our condolences to HFFA Director Philip Frye of Iowa in the loss of his wife Patricia.

I would like to welcome new members, William Calohan, Nina Calohan Thomas, Barbara Fisher, and Joyce McKay.

May God bless you and keep you.

I BEQUEATH

Everyone who has done much genealogical research has run into apparent dead ends. We cannot find a document we KNOW exists and we know WHERE it should be. A brick wall! Frustration!

Some few years ago, my brother was traveling through a rural county in a state where some of our ancestors had lived five generations ago. (Names and places have been fictionalized to protect the ignorant.) It was midday on a Friday when he reached the county courthouse where he believed some of our ancestors would have records. Among others, he thought an ancestor's will was probated in this county.

The records were scattered in three different courthouse annexes (really, separate buildings) and it was a tedious search. Shortly before the offices closed, he picked up an index to probate records and checked its entries. To his great delight, our g-g-g-grandfather's name appeared. His will had been submitted and scheduled for probate! Brother requested a copy and was told to go to another annex, pick up the copy, and return to that office to make payment.

He quickly raced back and forth over a two-block span, barely beating the clock. When he actually got a chance to read what he was given, it was just the probate court minutes, not the transcript of the will he was hoping for. The courthouse was now closed!

On Monday, brother returned to the county courthouse and sought out the clerk who had made the copy. He told her he needed the transcript of the actual will. The clerk assured him they did not keep "things like that" in their county.

Searching about to find some sort of way to find the sought after document, Brother asked her to tell him about what records they did have. She then launched into a detailed dissertation on what all she had accomplished in her six year tenure, unboxing, examining, sorting, filing, and making available records that had not been accessed in years etc, etc, etc.

Brother told her proudly that our family had been pioneers and involved in establishing that county many years ago. And he had hoped to find the contents of g-g-g-g-grandfather's will. He told her that her records showed the will had been probated in that county. He then described just what he was looking for and said the will probably began with "I, _____, being of sound mind, do bequeath the following . . ." She replied, "Oh, then, you probably would be interested in the 'Bequeath Book'."

Yes!! The will was there!

So. . . if you are running into dead ends at courthouses, maybe you need to re-think your request. Think in the terms of someone who has no idea about probate and wills, but who does know the records in her safekeeping, and that some of the records in her custody begin with the words: "I BEQUEATH. . ."

A MESSAGE FROM THE 2011 REUNION CHAIRMAN

I have been accumulating messages of intent for participation in the Frey Reunion 2011. As an update, having heard from 20 different families, I am expecting a total of 37 participants.

Contacts have been made to investigate motels with a meeting room. With this small number, there will be no need to have a bus. Also, I have commenced the agenda but have not yet advanced to the stage of any further announcements.

If there are any others who are considering attending, I would like to hear from you. Please provide any topics of interest, such as suggestions appropriate for content of our meeting and region. Also, especially for those members who are fairly distant, maybe you could provide family names of those who married into the Frey family who lived in the Frederick County region.

When you send emails, it will help if you refer to the subject, "HFFA Reunion 2010." One message came in as "Junk" for some unknown reason. Typically, I have been looking at "Junk" messages a couple of time per year or so. So hopefully that subject title will identify the reunion topics from among my thousands of messages. I try to respond to all messages as soon as possible. Thus, if you do not hear back within a week, then it is possible that I never received your message, and please resend your message.

Please send your letter via email, nschulze@cox.net, or postal service,

DESTINED TO BE A JUDGE

I am sure we were all saddened by the death of the Georgian luge participant in the recent Olympics. One of our cousins, Mark Friden of Star Lake, NY is an international and Olympic level luge official. Unfortunately, he was not chosen for this year's Olympics, but perhaps he will in some future Olympiad.

Recently Mark was asked by a local reporter about judging luge competition. He pointed out that it is not subjective like figure skating but is gravity driven. Winners are determined by their times. As an official, his responsibilities require record keeping and making sure the rules are followed so that all athletes compete on an equal basis. Mark says, "We measure the temperature of the runners, weigh the sleds, weigh the athletes, take measurements of the sleds, make sure there's no special advantages in any area. Like any sport, there are opportunities where people can cheat. The luge officials try to eliminate those opportunities."

Mark has led an interesting life that included being employed for many years by Western and Delta Airlines with all the travel perks. He has been a competitive figure skater as well as a judge, accountant, and referee at figure skating competitions. He was a rodeo competitor (bull riding, steer wrestling, and calf roping) and later became a rodeo judge.

When he moved to Star Lake, which is 70 miles from Lake Placid, NY (the home of two Winter Olympics), he became a judge for luge. He hopes to start training to be a bobsled and skeleton official next year.

He worked for ABC Television as a consultant at major figure skating championships for five years, including the 1984 Olympic Winter Games in Sarajevo.

Aside from being the town judge for Clifton, NY, and serving on many local boards (library and hospital boards for example) he is on the Board of the Library Trustees Association of New York State.

Gordon is hoping to whet our appetite for the 2011 reunion with information like this. He knows many of us will enjoy some "cemetery time" and this one looks very interesting. Perhaps some of you who are familiar with the area we will be visiting in 2011 can send in some of your favorite family history sites that we can visit.

Perhaps you may want to save this page for reference when you attend the reunion.

Intermont, WV appears to be about 30 miles west of Winchester, WV. It should take less than an hour to reach the cemetery from Winchester.

A Featured Fry

We received a copy of a newsletter titled Wesley Towers Tapestry. It is from a residence in Hutchinson, KS. In the newsletter, one of our members, Mary Cooley Fry was featured. She is the wife of the late Milton Fry (1923 – 2003), a former HFFA member.

The article told about Mary's training as a nurse in the U.S. Cadet Nurse Corps during World War II. At the same time, Milton served as a flight engineer with the Air Corps.

Congratulations to them both for their service to our country during war time and congratulations to Mary for being featured in the Wesley Towers Tapestry.

SEARCHING FOR FACTOIDS

We are searching for small but interesting facts that you might have discovered in your family history. Some things are interesting just by themselves, but not big enough for an entire article.

For example: According to an article in the Shelby County, KY News, Robert, Henry & Jacob Fry were triplets. In 1927, the year they observed their 83rd birthday, they were the oldest living triplets in the United States.

Their heritage by the way would be; Heinrich – Benjamin, - Jacob, - Jacob Jr. - Andrew Jackson Fry.

Here is another FACTOID from my own heritage. Henry Speers and Rebecca Frye had 13 children. Usually, from such a list, only one of the children can be listed as one of your direct ancestors. In this case, however, I can claim that three of their children are in my direct line of ancestry.

Apollos Speers md Elizabeth Cooper

Pleasant Speers md William Ward

Catherine Speers md John McCrory

Noah, the son of Apollos md his first cousin Sarah Amanda Ward, the daughter of Pleasant. In those days that was not particularly unusual. It has happened in many of our families.

Catherine's great granddaughter, Margaret Torrance McClain md her 2nd cousin, once removed, Van Lawrence Speers. He was the son of Noah and Sarah, mentioned above.

Thus, siblings Apollos, Pleasant, and Catherine are in my direct line of ancestors.

We would like to hear about other small tidbits from your family history. Send them to Mike Speers. My mailing and emailing addresses are listed on the last page of the newsletter.

If you want to expand your story into a bigger article, that's OK too. Send it in.

Another series that was initiated about a year ago in the newsletter involved asking what got you started in family history. Here is another of those stories.

PRODIGY LEADS TO ANCESTRY

by Richard Frey

As a child, I remember talking to my father's oldest sister, Aunt Genevieve. She would tell me about being raised in Breckenridge, Colorado with her extended Frey relatives. Unfortunately, I was too young to realize that I should have written these important facts down. Aunt Genevieve died in 1964 and my dad died only 2 years later. Several years after that I remember talking to my mother's great aunt Gertrude Cossitt about her Cossitt family. Again, I failed to write anything down.

I got my first home computer around 1990 and when it first became available, signed up for the online program called Prodigy. One day, while on Prodigy, I saw an advertisement for Family Tree Maker. It looked interesting and I placed an order.

That got me started with my genealogy research.

My first data came from inquiries with living relatives. After that I had to do research of birth, death and marriage records along with information on grave markers as well as contacting funeral homes to see what information they got from family members at the time of a death.

Since my last name is Frey, I was very curious about my Frey ancestors. For many years I was up against a brick wall once I got to my great grandfather Smith Frey. A 2nd cousin and I who were doing similar research came to the conclusion that he must have died between 1880 when the census was taken and 1885 when his wife remarried. Since the first name of Smith is quite unusual, I continued to Google the name with the hope that something would come up on him. Nothing ever did. About two years ago, this 2nd cousin found a Smith Frey in the 1900 census for Sedgwick County, Colorado. The year and state of birth matches, but the occupation was different. Further research confirmed that this was, in fact, my great grandfather. He and my great grandmother had been divorced and he moved with his new wife to a different part of Colorado.

I now knew a little more of my Frey ancestors, but going back only 3 or 4 generations was not enough. That is why I had Family Tree DNA conduct tests on me. These test results linked me with a distant cousin, Bruce Frey who lives in Ohio. Cousin Bruce then showed me where I fit in the line of descendents of Heinrich Frey.

As for my mother's Cossitt ancestors, I found the Cossitt Family Association around 2000 with a simple Google search. Currently I am the Treasurer of this Association and their Webmaster.

Just think what that one advertisement on Prodigy started for me. I have not only purchased 6 different upgrade versions of Family Tree Maker, I will probably be purchasing their next version that comes out and is compatible with Windows 7 as I recently upgraded to that operating system.
